arm and body bruises; Pearl, aged three, has a broken nose and painful cuts; S. H. White, Jr., aged eight months, painfully bruised a Coroner Dixon did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest and at a late hour tonight the bodies were understood to be on the way to Spartanburg. Both Mr. and Mrs. White have numerous family connections at Jonesville. Mr. White was engineer at Pacolet mills, operating the shifting locomotive, used by the mill on its property. He was a middle-aged man.
